DETAILED ACTION

The Examiner acknowledges the submission of the amendment filed on 07/22/03. At this time claims 1, 3, 4, 8, 13, 15 are amended. Claims 5, 6, 12 are canceled. Thus, claims 1-4,7-11 and 13-21 are pending in the instant application.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-4, 7, 8-11, 13-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Scheibler in view of Corfits et al.

Scheibler discloses the digital data processor chassis having plurality of slots 4 for receiving circuit boards 3, the first and second sets of apertures are disposed adjacent to the respective edges of the circuit boards providing airflow through the chassis, at least one set of the airflow apertures is sized to facilitate airflow impedance match between circuit boards, the chassis includes a fan 12 and the airflow inlet and outlet, the slots provide air-tight junction with the circuit boards. Scheibler discloses the claimed invention except the plenum formed by the circuit board and the cover affixed to the circuit board and brazing method of making the chassis. Corfits discloses the circuit board assembly 11 having the plenum formed by the cover 12 being affixed to the circuit board. It would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to have circuit boards as disclosed by Corfits in the structure disclosed by Scheibler. Regarding to brazing as method of making the chassis, it is obvious that in this case the presence of process of making limitations in the article claims that do not otherwise distinguish the current article from the prior art cannot impart patentability to that product.

Conclusion

3. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
